

History

The Japanese film Dragon Ball z: Battle of gods is a fan favorite anime series as its prequel to the Dragon Ball Super saga. The film is a 2013 animated “fantasy” martial art film of the Dragon Ball series. Manga Entertainment and Funimation released the film during the middle of 2013.

Protagonist

The Protagonist in this film is the saiyan, in particular Goku, who is a part of the saiyan race, a race where there is no limit in strength and power. He is the main character of the entire Dragon Ball series, a martial art possessing superhuman strength raised on planet Earth, born in King Vegeta Planet. He was disbanded from his parents as the destruction of their planet was occurring with the evil empire Frieza; they sent out Goku to the unknown and far location known as Earth.

In this film he is introduced beginning in King Kai Planet where he is working out in the overworld where he is interrupted by the god of destruction Beerus in discovering the god transformation of super saiyan.

Antagonists

The antagonist in this film is the god of destruction Beerus. A god resembling a purple cat wearing Egyptian clothes and ornaments. His role is to maintain balance by destroying planets in contrast to the supreme kai who creates them. His first introduction was in this film, arriving for the first time in the Dragon ball saga, he later became a main character in the Dragon Ball super. In this film his main goal was to foresee his dream in real life and find the particular character in his dream.

First Act/ Plot 1 (Beerus Planet, King Kai Planet)

The film starts off as Beerus (the god of destruction) is awoken from his long lengthy nap by his assistant Whis. As a god of destruction Beerus spent most of his days destroying planets, eating, or sleeping and if the food wasn't good in one of the planets he visited he would end up destroying it and everything with it.. As awoken from his nap, he remembered a dream, a dream of a mighty opponent who would appear in front of him as a challenger. Remembering his dream, an oracle foretold this opponent to be a warrior called the “super saiyan god” of the saiyan race. As previously most of the saiyan race were extinct due to a man named Frieza, there were few survivors which led them to the planet Earth. Whis was able to locate some of the saiyan on planet Earth, upon finding the saiyan, one particular individual name Goku, who defeated the evil emperor Frieza previously by transforming as a super saiyan, was on a planet of King Kai, a planet in the overworld. Upon recognizing the individual, Beerus and his assistant Whis take foot upon the journey to King Kai planet to further find this super saiyan god that Berrus recalled. Berrus and Whis arrived at King Kai to introduce themselves to Goku. Asking Goku about the god form, the saiyan was unaware of the transformation. Goku, getting deliberately excited, asked Berrus to a fight in spite of the transformation. Berrus agreed to the fight they fought, but Goku powering up to super saiyan 3 was easily defeated. Berrus being disappointed he departed from king kai planet and went to earth to seek out the other saiyan.

Second Act / Plot 2 (Bulma Party, Earth)

The second act begins with Bulma Party (A main character in the saga and Vegeta wife) as the entire crew are finishing setting up her party on a cruise, Berrus and Whis arrive in search for Vegeta, a saiyan. Notifying Vegeta he was also unknown to the person, Berrus being disappointed and unhappy with his dream being real or fake , his nose picked up a quite delicious smell from around the corner. Vegeta's wife, Bulma, meets with the god of destruction unknown of his role; she welcomes the two to her birthday party. A whole carnival of delis and food was around the corner as beerus was starving. They both start to eat as much as they can, time passes by as Beerus is provoked by a man named Buu, who refuses to share a cup of pudding. Beerus attacks Buu and decides to destroy the Earth when everyone around them try to fight Beerus but they are swiftly defeated. As he prepares to obliterate the planet, Goku suddenly arrives, asking him for some time to learn about this super saiyan god. Agreeing to give him 5 minutes, Goku summons Shenron using the dragon ball, a dragon capable of revealing a wish. Asking about this god form, Shenron says to reveal the power it would take the power of six pure hearted Saiyans to help reach the form to one. Vegeta, Gohan (Goku first son) Goten (Goku second son) Trunks (Vegeta first son) and Videl who was carrying child (Gohan Wife) all channeled their energy to Goku and Goku ascending to the level of a super Saiyan god.

Third Act / Plot 3 (Earth)

Goku confronts Beerus and the two engage in a very intense fight. Before the fight the two agreed that if Beerus won he would destroy Earth and if Goku won he would not destroy Earth and to not come back. The two agreed they continue to fight, after extensive fighting from the two the match was pretty even however Goku's form was only limited, After a short period his god form deformed back to his original form of super Saiyan. Upon losing the form, Goku was still able to continue to fight Beerus even with the lack of the form. As time passes and as Goku loses his godlike ability he is overwhelmed with exhaustion and towards the end he falls from the sky admitting defeat and Beerus had one. Even though Beerus agreed, he decided to destroy a small piece of a rock, admitting he was tired. Slowly dozing off Beerus and his bid their farewells saying they would come back for some more pudding and then left the Earth to return back to their planet.
