

Feature Film Pitch

- Title: Jane Doe
- Genre: Action
- World: Secret hideout in a desolate desert, large cities and suburbs as the backdrop for the "hits"
- Protagonist: Jane Doe
- Somebody wants something badly and is having difficulty getting it: Jane Doe wants to expose Mr. Magnus Haywire and his crime ring. She also wants to find her associate, John Smith.
- Antagonist: Mr. Magnus Haywire
- Inciting Incident: Mr. Haywire gives Jane and John solo assignments. Jane's target turns out to be her father.
- Act 1
 - Jane Doe and John Smith are hitpersons for hire, part of "The Ghost" initiative headed by Mr. Magnus Haywire. He sends his 2 associates to "rid the world of bad people" and do his dirty work after taking large sums of money. Mr. Haywire has brainwashed both Jane and John so that their true identities are mysteries and they only are known by their code names. We see various "missions" that John and Jane go on. Mr. Haywire is behind the scenes directing them. Plot Point 1 is when Jane goes on a solo mission. The man she is supposed to take out turns out to be her real father. She has been missing for 13 years. He calls her name: Ella.
- Act 2
 - It turns out that Jane "Ella" went missing when she was 8 years old. Mr. Haywire took and brainwashed her. Jane chooses to do nothing for a time, trying to unravel the mystery of her disappearance. When John mysteriously disappears, she turns to Sergeant Person Forsyth and the police to find him and take down Mr. Haywire (Plot Point 2).
- Act 3
 - Sergeant Forsyth sends Jane back to Mr. Haywire as an undercover operative to find out the inner workings of "The Ghost" operation. When Mr. Haywire becomes suspicious of Jane, he dismisses her from her hitwoman status and from the operation. Jane works with Sergeant Forsyth and the police to find John. She eventually finds him, but he is brainwashed to the point of no return. He would rather die than betray Mr. Haywire. Mr. Haywire is caught by the police trying to escape his desert hideout and arrested for running a hitman operative and the kidnapping of 2 children. Jane is dismissed from her crimes and becomes a part of the detective police force.
